

SIX KILLED IN CROSSING ACCIDENT

CONVENTION IS WITHOUT CHOICE FOR PRESIDENCY

Convention Hall, St. Paul, June 19.—The farmer-labor convention here, its machinery jammed by a fresh denunciation from Sen. Robert M. La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, today was preparing to adjourn, without naming a third party ticket, content, apparently, with having formed a national third party and adopted a platform stressing communistic doctrines for control of the government.

This platform, considered one of the major triumphs of the radicals, who attended the convention today, loomed as the last critical issue between the radicals and the more conservative delegates. Differences which it had been announced might cause the farmer delegates to bolt the convention, had apparently been smoothed over by compromises.

The farmer-laborites delegate admit that they will make every effort today to bring about an adjournment by tonight. Radicals who have had little trouble in asserting their wishes, are opposed to this since it was their intention to bring out both candidates for the presidency and vice presidency but their spokesmen have announced they are willing to concede the point to the more conservative element.

The farm elements wanted nothing done that would in any way embarrass the candidacy of La Follette, which they are predicting he will announce after the progressive gathering in Cleveland, July 4.

When La Follette again notified the convention that he would under no consideration stand for their endorsement, they pleaded with the communists not to press for the naming of an independent ticket but to let La Follette have a free rein.

The communists following La Follette's second denunciation, were prepared to put forward Donald McDonald, Illinois labor leader, as their presidential candidate but it had been virtually decided today to await developments of the progressive. If this puts forward a man of sufficiently radical tendencies for president, they plan to give him the endorsement. If not, they argue, there is still time to put McDonald or some other candidate in the field.

All this has been tentatively agreed upon and the communist platform appeared the only battling ground in prospect for today.

Chief planks in this are:
Nationalization of industry.
Repeal of the federal reserve and national banking acts.
Abolition of the right of courts to issue injunctions against strikes.

The eight hour day and prohibition of child labor.
Minimum wage law.
Social insurance and old age pensions.

National maternity law.
Recognition of soviet Russia.
Elimination of landlordism.
Public control of transportation and marketing institutions.

Compensation for unemployed at trade union wages.
Full political and economic equality for Negroes.

GIRL ADMITS SHE STARTED FIRE IN WESTERN SCHOOL

Los Angeles, June 19.—Josephine Bartholomew, 16-year-old inmate of the Hope Development school, which burned the night of May 31, causing the death of 23 children and one woman, confessed that she started the fire. Her confession came after other children rescued from the building recalled that Josephine had been downstairs shortly before the flames were discovered. Weeping, the girl was brought to the district attorney's office by W. H. Prescott, head of the juvenile department. "I set the fire because I didn't like things at the home," she said between sobs. "They didn't treat me right."

Cummings in Canada?
Milwaukee, June 19.—Officials seeking loss of George P. Cummings, in connection with the slaying of his 62-year-old bride, near Wittenberg, are without a clue as to his whereabouts. That he is now in Canada is the general belief of local officials. Reports from Victoria, B. C., where Cummings lived for a time, disclose that the man, while there, represented himself as a sportsman. He is said also to have claimed to be the son of a family of nobility in England.

All Loot Recovered.
Washington, June 19.—Recovery of all cash and securities taken in the $3,000,000 holdup on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road near Chicago last week, and arrest of all concerned will be announced shortly, the postoffice department said. Chief Postal Inspector Rush D. Simmons left for Chicago to take full charge of the case.

New Dean of Women.
Alliance, O., June 19.—Miss Sarah C. Stevenson of Delaware has been appointed dean of women at Mount Union college here.

CALL DAWES RICHEST AMERICAN OFFICE SEEKER.

MR. & MRS. CHARLES G. DAWES & ADOPTED CHILDREN AT DAWES MANSION.

According to political writers, Brigadier-General Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, Republican Vice-Presidential candidate, is the richest man who ever sought public office in America. The banker who headed the entire purchasing department of the Allies in the World War, lives in this palatial mansion in fashionable Evanston, North Shore suburb of Chicago.

General Dawes is pictured here with his wife and their two adopted children, Virginia and Dana, to whom General Dawes is devoted.

There has been much discussion of the possibility of abolishing the two-thirds rule, the guesses being about even that McAdoo will and that he will not sponsor the proposed change. Brennan, Taggart and Moore are concerned primarily in figuring out a good place to jump after their respective choices—Senator Ralston, Governor Smith and James M. Cox—pass out of the running, if they do pass out.

DONAHEY WILL FILL VACANCY ON THE BENCH

Columbus, June 19.—Governor Donahey will fill by appointment the vacancy on the Ohio supreme bench caused by the death of Judge Reuben M. Wanamaker of Akron.

The governor announced that such appointment, however, will be for the period only until the November election, when a successor to serve out the rest of Wanamaker's term will be elected. His term expires Jan. 1, 1925, so the judge elected to complete his term will serve less than two months.

Two judges, to serve six-year terms, to succeed Wanamaker and Judge James E. Robinson of Marysville, whose present term expires at the same time as Wanamaker's, are also to be elected in November, making a total of three judges to be chosen by the voters.

The "short term" judge, to complete Wanamaker's unexpired term from election time to Jan. 1, will probably be elected by writing in the name. This was done in 1922, when Judge George H. Clark of Canton, appointed by former Governor Davis to succeed Judge James G. Johnson of Springfield, resigned, served from July to November and then was elected, his name being written in, to serve until Jan. 1, 1923, when the new "long term" began.

Judge Wanamaker, who ended his life at a local hospital, was one of the best known members of the Ohio supreme court. He gained fame as a progressive and attained recognition throughout the country as a writer on legal procedure in the United States and abroad. He also was the author of a book on the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Judge Wanamaker started his political career as prosecuting attorney in Summit county. As prosecutor he conducted the investigation of the Akron riot in 1900.

On the record he made as prosecutor, Wanamaker was nominated and elected common pleas judge for the district that then included Summit, Medina and Lorain counties. He served for seven years as common pleas judge, during that time creating a reputation because of his insistence on swift trials and the elimination of "red tape" and technicalities.

In 1912 he ran and was elected as a progressive for judge of the state supreme court. In 1918 he was a candidate for another term, this time as a Republican, and was re-elected. In 1920 he was a candidate for Republican nomination for United States senate, but was defeated by Senator Frank B. Willis.

Recently Judge Wanamaker had been taking treatment from a nervous breakdown. He was killed when he leaped from the window of a bathroom on the sixth floor.

Claims He's Not Insane.
Chicago, June 19.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., who, with Richard Loeb, awaits trial on charges of kidnapping and killing Robert Franks, 14-year-old schoolboy, may not rely on insanity as a defense, he is quoted as saying, in spite of efforts of alienists to find mental defects. "I'm not insane and I'm not going to be made to appear insane," he is quoted as saying.

NEW INDICTMENTS AGAINST TWO CHICAGO YOUTHS ARE SOUGHT

Chicago, June 19.—New indictments charging Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers, of thirteen year old Robert Franks with conspiracy to murder, and so constructed as to cover the entire crime from the time the boy was kidnapped until his body was taken from the muddy culvert on Chicago's south side, will be sought by the office of State's Attorney Crowe, according to reports current here today.

Then state's attorney, it was said, has prepared evidence to be presented the June grand jury, so carefully that not a single shred of evidence will be overlooked in his efforts to bring a fourth and final indictment of the two college-bred youths. Belief was expressed today that the charge of conspiracy to murder will be the one on which Loeb and Leopold are finally brought to trial. It also was declared the state's attorney knows and has admitted that the indictments charging conspiracy to kidnap, "murder" and "kidnaping" for ransom, cover only part of the case.

RHODE ISLAND SENATORS SUFFER FROM EFFECTS OF CHLORINE GAS

Providence, R. I. June 19.—Senator Arthur Sherman, Republican floor leader, and Senator Harry A. Sanderson, were removed to the Rhode Island State Hospital today in a serious condition, suffering from the effects of what is believed to be chlorine gas.

Papers saturated with the gas were discovered beneath the chair of Lieut. Gov. Felix A. Toupin.

The timely discovery of the gas saturated papers prevented additional casualties among the wornout members of the senate and the crowd that jammed the senate chamber. The fumes became so strong that it was impossible to remain in the chamber and the Republicans agreed to an hour's recess in order to clear the room of the gas fumes. The papers are being held in the governor's office pending chemical analysis.

The filibuster is now entering its third day.

THREE AUTOMOBILE BANDITS ROB OHIO COMPANY'S PAYMASTER AND ESCAPE

Cincinnati, O., June 19.—Three automobile bandits held up and robbed Edward Law, assistant paymaster for the American Agricultural Chemical Company, of a payroll amounting to $1,973.32 here late yesterday. Law with his son Edward Jr., and Daniel Tighe, who were with the paymaster, in the paycar, were severely beaten by the bandits when they attempted resistance.

The auto in which the bandits made their escape was later found deserted by the police.

The car bore the Indiana license 536,619 and was partially wrecked when driven against a street curb.

EYE ON CAMPAIGN GIFTS IS PLAN

Washington, June 19.—The Borah campaign contributions committee organized here and decided that regular reports on contributions received and money expended will be asked from the national committees of the principal parties every 10 days during the coming campaign. A general outline of how the committees propose to conduct their campaigns also will be required. The committee will scrutinize contributions and expenditures by every organization or individual who seeks to influence an election for president, vice president, or senator, Borah announced. Such organizations as the Anti-Saloon league which take active part in political campaigns will come under the committee's microscope, he said.

Harding Memorial Planned.

Denver, Col., June 19.—Kiwanis clubs will construct a $20,000 memorial to the late President Warren G. Harding at Stanley park, Vancouver, B. C., on the spot of his last public address, the board of trustees decided. Plans for construction of the memorial were submitted to the delegation of the International convention today.

Boy Drowns.

Columbus, June 19.—Conrad Sherman, 11, was drowned while bathing in the Scioto river. He was swept to death when caught in the swift current.

CLEVELAND FACED BY CAR STRIKE

Cleveland, June 19.—The executive committee of the local streetcar men's union voted unanimously to reject the differential wage scale proffered by President Stanley as his only terms of settlement. The committee represents 2,500 motormen and conductors. "Things look dark," was the ominous statement made by William Polk, union president, after the decision was reached. "The executive committee took no action on the matter of a strike," he continued. "It is not necessary for them to take action. It now lies within my power to call a strike. All I can say is that the men are very much dissatisfied with the attitude of the company."

Blind Man Hangs Self.

Columbus, June 19.—Fred Yorke, 38, committed suicide by hanging himself to the rafters of a barn in the rear of his home here. Yorke had been blind for five years.

Boy Accidentally Shot.

Canton, O., June 19.—Charles Sherbrook, 14, of Carrollton, is in a serious condition in Mercy hospital with a bullet lodged in his abdomen. Sherbrook was accidentally shot by a companion while engaged in target shooting with several other boys in a field outside the town.

GENOA, OHIO SCENE OF TRAGEDY AS ELECTRIC CAR HITS AUTO THURSDAY

M'ADOO REACHES HEADQUARTERS; TAKES CONTROL

New York, June 19.—William G. McAdoo of California, one of the leading candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, arrived here and at once took personal direction of his pre-convention campaign.

Governor Al Smith of New York, another leading candidate for the nomination, also has taken personal charge of his campaign at his headquarters here. Among the latest arrivals were George Brennan, Illinois leader; Thomas Taggart of Indiana and Ed Moore of Ohio.

There has been much discussion of the possibility of abolishing the two-thirds rule, the guesses being about even that McAdoo will and that he will not sponsor the proposed change.

Brennan, Taggart and Moore are concerned primarily in figuring out a good place to jump after their respective choices—Senator Ralston, Governor Smith and James M. Cox—pass out of the running, if they do pass out.

Arrival of the Cox advance guard and establishing of headquarters at the Waldorf got his boom into full swing, and there are now Smith, McAdoo and Cox boosters, named in the order of their number and noise, but holding everyone who looks like an undecided delegate.

Leaders say the Illinois and Pennsylvania delegations will be generous in their early gifts to aspiring candidates. In both are delegates favoring every candidate to appear so far and votes will be apportioned among them. Indiana and New York delegations will vote solidly for Ralston and Smith respectively at the outset, and neither professes as yet to have decided upon any second choice. These four delegations, if they agree to combine on a candidate, probably will decide the nomination.

Everyone, for the moment, is watching McAdoo. If he moves to abolish the two-thirds convention rule, and he probably could succeed, because he will have more than a majority of the rules committee membership, it will precipitate a fight that many believe would ruin his chances for nomination, or election, if nominated. He is being counseled both ways by his advisers.

Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana, leader in the senate oil probe and outspoken supporter of McAdoo for the nomination, has been selected by the national committee as permanent chairman of the convention, subject to approval of the convention.

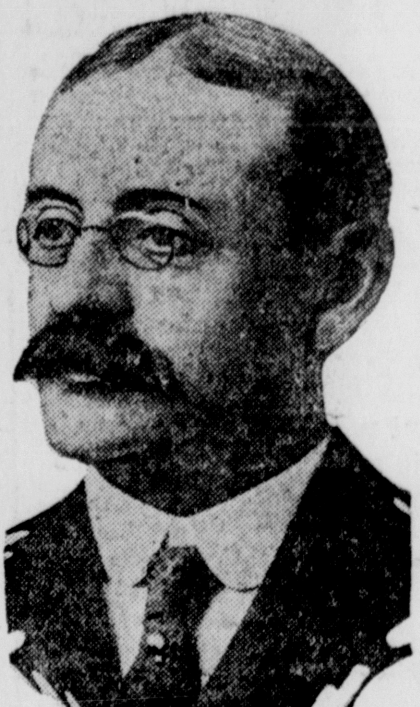

State Chairman John H. Bigelow announced that Pennsylvania's delegates to the Democratic convention will support Governor Al Smith of New York for the presidential nomination.

A boom for David F. Houston, former secretary of the treasury and secretary of agriculture, has been started by Circuit Judge Ewing Cockrell of Warrensburg, Mo., son of the late United States Senator Cockrell. Members of the Democratic national committee let it be known that Homer S. Cummings, often mentioned for the chairmanship of the committee on rules, was virtually certain to be chosen chairman of the committee on resolutions unless opposition developed.

TWO OFFICES ARE SOUGHT BY MAN

Columbus, June 19.—Secretary of State Brown ruled that one man can not run for two offices by juggling his name on the ballots. The opinion was rendered upon the application of the Darke county board of elections, which reported that one man had filed for two offices, signing his first name in full and the initial of his middle name in one declaration, and using the initial of his first name and his middle name in full in the second. Secretary Brown left it up to the board as to whether either or both names should be permitted to go on the ballot, but ruled action should be taken to prevent deception.

DR. G. S. BERINGER

Dr. George S. Beringer, of Camden, N. J., has been awarded the Remington Medal of the American Pharmaceutical Association, the highest honor in American pharmacy, for distinguished service to the profession and the public in this field.

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE ROBBERY OF MAIL TRAIN

Chicago, June 19.—The federal grand jury is preparing to investigate the robbery of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul mail train last Thursday night.

Police Chief Collins announced that four members of the bandit band, which executed the sensational holdup are being sought, while eight men and two women are under arrest.

Postal officials disclosed today that more than $500,000 in liberty bonds was included in the $3,000,000 loot secured by the train robbers. Unsigned currency of $10,000 face value was found in the mail bags left in an abandoned automobile on a farm near Joliet.

Most of the loot has been recovered. Sixty-one mail bags with $100,000 worth of non-negotiable securities and $5,000 in $5 bills, taken in the holdup, have been recovered, the last item apparently having been overlooked by the bandits.

STATE LOSES SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Columbus, June 19.—The state of Ohio failed in its attempt to collect damages from a contractor for failure to complete a road job when the state supreme court sustained a demurrer filed by J. H. & W. R. Strininger and the London and Lancashire Indemnity company of America. The contractors started a road in Jefferson county, but failed to complete it. The indemnity company had given bond for them. The state completed the job and sought to collect the difference between the contract price and the cost under state supervision. The contractors held that they could not be held to the contract because the county commissioners had failed to appropriate funds to meet the county's share of the obligation.

FORMER CHAMPION STILL IN RUNNING

Columbus, O., June 19.—Three former champions were still in the running when second round matches in all flights in the Ohio Amateur Golf Championship tournament started today. They were Joe Wells, of East Liverpool; Jack Munro of Zanesville and Dewitt C. Balch, of Cincinnati.

Upon completion of the second round matches, officials intend to start the semi-finals this afternoon. It was said. Finals are to be played Friday over 36 holes.

THREE KILLED IN GEORGIA AS TRAINS CRASH

FAMOUS AIRMAN USES PARACHUTE TO SAVE HIMSELF

Dayton, June 19.—Lieutenant John A. Macready, McCook field, escaped death Wednesday night about 10 o'clock, when at an altitude of 1,500 feet, his motor refused to function and crashed to the ground near the Lebanon Pike shortly after Macready had leaped from the falling plane in his parachute.

The airplane fell in a burst of flames and motorists and residents along the pike who witnessed the downward plunge, were given a thrill as the gasoline tank of the plane exploded as the machine struck the ground.

Many spectators rushed to the scene thinking the pilot had fallen with the plane and were frantic when, owing to the intense heat, they were unable to approach near enough to the burning plane to verify their fears.

A short time later all anxiety was dispelled as Lieut. Macready, who had landed safely a quarter of a mile away, strode through the crowd, unhurt. Lieut. Macready, in making his report to Major L. W. McIntosh, commandant of McCook field, said both his motor and his parachute flares refused to work, and so knowing he was in dangerous territory for night landing, he decided to step from the plane.

Macready was returning from a trip to Columbus at the time the accident occurred.

ARRESTS MADE IN ROME KIDNAPING

Rome, June 19.—Several arrests have been made in connection with the kidnapping of Socialist Deputy Matteotti, the political scandal which has shaken all Italy and even threatened the overthrow of Premier Mussolini and the Fascists. Matteotti, who disappeared Tuesday, is believed to have been murdered. Meanwhile, despite persistent rumors of cabinet resignations and reorganization, the only change so far made is the appointment of Signor Federzoni to succeed Signor Finzi as minister of the interior. Finzi resigned last week in order, he said, to defend himself against charges of guilty knowledge of the Matteotti conspiracy, made by his enemies.

OUTLOOK FOR FRUIT GROWERS IS GOOD

Columbus, O., June 19.—The outlook for Ohio fruit growers is very promising, Charles V. Truax, state agricultural director said today.

Indications point to a larger crop than last year. The apple crop is estimated by the Ohio apple growers at 80 per cent of a normal year compared with 74 per cent last year and the Ohio peach crop is estimated at 74 per cent of a normal crop.

RIVER CLAIMS LIVES IN COLUMBUS

Mrs. Esterline was born near Clifton, O., August 15, 1857, the daughter of Mary and Daniel Larkins, who preceded her in death. She was united in marriage to John Esterline, October 26, 1882, who together with four children, Mrs. Ralph Oster and Raymond Esterline of Yellow Springs, William of Springfield and Wilbur of Dayton, survive her. ### MODISH MITZI—Hurrah For A Cool Summer

What with the spring being so wet and cold, Mitzi has no faith in the warmth of summer. Summer may be coming, but nothing has proved it to her yet. So she enjoys the coats she bought for spring and summer wear. (This is a suit—dress and cape.)

This is one of the smartest summer wraps—an unlined coat of flannel in grey, beige or any of the bright new colors. The collar is of white summer fur—any sort of fur so long as it's white. It's going to be one of the most popular of summer styles.

Another flannel coat—also unlined—is more tailored in its lines. This is strictly utilitarian with huge patch pockets and roomy comfortable lines. This, too, will be popular in green, blue, brick color, maize, beige and white. The brighter the color, the better the fashion!

For evening—a new style! The wrap itself is of heavy satin and the pattern is lace—heavy beige-colored crocheted lace. This is a new style but will probably be good, as the vogue for laces of all kinds for all uses continues to grow and grow.

NO PLACE FOR IDLERS

There is one bloc with which President Coolidge is perhaps most unpopular. It is the idler bloc. The president repeatedly has preached, and practiced, the doctrine of hard work. His latest utterance on the subject was at commencement exercises at Georgetown University, Monday. On that occasion the president said the world was ready to give to trained minds "a warmer welcome, a larger share in the tasks than ever before."

But, he emphasized, there is trouble ahead for those who insist upon "tall and stiff collars as a part of the working uniform, whether such collars are of the intellectual type of mind or the linen type for the neck." The president could not see a place for individuals who are "too nice to work." To these, he said, the world is likely to prove a "bit cold."

That kind of talk, of course, is unpleasant to those who expect an easy time in the world. To many, it may not be at all alluring when the president declares "there will never be a saturation point, a danger of overproduction, in good, working, capable brains. The world is not a place for the easy-going. It can offer him practically nothing. Dislike or attempted evasion of that fact will not change it.—Kansas City Star.

DAWES FOR VICE PRESIDENT

General Dawes' nomination for vice president came after a painful and humiliating experience in the refusal of Mr. Lowden to accept the nomination after it had been tendered by the convention's vote. This is so unusual that there will be a search for precedents—especially by the opposition party.

The nomination of General Dawes seems, however, fully as expedient as that of Mr. Lowden could have been. He stands very definitely in the public mind for two big achievements—THE INAUGURATION OF THE BUDGET SYSTEM AND THE DAWES REPARATIONS REPORT. A salient and racy personality, he may add much to the interest of the campaign. It is doubtful, however, that he can bring new strength to the ticket, for Mr. Coolidge was already sure of the support of all the admirers of General Dawes. A leading Chicago banker was not needed either to balance or to strengthen a ticket with Mr. Coolidge at the head of it. Either Senator Borah or Judge Kenyon was the desirable nominee in order to make the ticket appeal to certain classes of Western voters who may be attracted to a third party candidate. Now that the choice has been made, however, General Dawes' excellent qualities should not be obscured. He is a high grade administrator and if called to the presidency, the office would feel the effect of a forceful character.—Springfield Republican.

REMEMBER 1920

"The President has thrown down the gauntlet to the radical-ridden Senate and has become the militant defender of the Constitution against senatorial intrusion. The great majority of the people are solidly behind him in that stand. When the Democrats were in control of the executive branch of the government they rode roughshod over the constitutional rights of the legislative branch. The voters repudiated them by the greatest vote in the history of the country.

The votes that rebuked them in 1920 will be available again next November to administer another reproof just as emphatic."

THE NON-BELIEVER

The non-believer is a man
Who lets the morning sunshine in
And thinks by chance this world
Began,
As men throw dice and lose or win;
He sees the violets bloom and blow,
But not the power which makes them grow.

Chance charted every planet's course!
By chance the summer follows spring
Chance gave to man the faithful horse
And made the swallow fleet of wing!
How these things came he doesn't know.
He thinks they merely happened so.

Oh, what a jumble there would be
If chance were shaping beasts and men,
Could blind chance once repeat a tree,
Or bring the June rose back again?
The simplest truth we've learned to know
Tomorrow chance might overthrow.
Without confusion or mistake

A higher law we cannot break,

In every twig and leaf and blade
I see God's handiwork displayed.

ABROGATION OF THE 'GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT' IS UP TO JAPAN

Washington, June 19.—Although Secretary of State Hughes, by his note replying to the Japanese exclusion protest, released the Japanese government from the "gentlemen's agreement," with respect to the control of immigration, it still remained today for Japan to decide whether the agreement is to be abrogated.

Hughes went into considerable detail in support of his position that the Oriental exclusion provision in the new immigration bill was not much different than the regulations now in force between the two governments to shut out an influx of orientals. He explained, however, that it had been the desire of President Coolidge, as made known several times, to continue to regulate immigration through diplomatic channels rather than by congressional enactment, adding that the law, having been fully enacted, must be enforced.

Flat denial was made that the immigration law, as alleged by the Japanese government, violated any of the provisions of the commercial treaty of 1911 between the United States and Japan.

The Hughes note, made public today in Washington and Tokio, was friendly in tone and emphasized that no affront was intended by the exclusion law.

It was problematical today whether the Japanese government would elect to formally accept the release from the gentlemen's agreement or whether that pact would be permitted to remain in force in the hope that it could again be used as a basis for the regulation of immigration from the orient.

MAN SLIGHTLY HURT

Mr. Williamson, Fairfield, was cut and bruised about the head, face and arms when the Ford sedan he was driving ran off a culvert on the Wilmington Pike, a mile and one-half from Xenia Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Williamson was unhurt. The accident happened when they attempted to pass another machine. The front end of the car was smashed and was brought to the Swigart Bros. garage for repairs before they were able to continue their trip.

That's when the wisdom of wearing Summer Clothes appears. Not only because they make you feel cooler, though they do that.

They also make you look like the upstanding fellow you really are no matter how wilting the weather. For the fine tailoring in our suits holds that snappy look right through the dog days.

JAPANESE FAIL TO PROVE 'SUPERIORITY OF WHITE RACE' SAYS MISSIONARY THERE

Aomori, Japan, April 20, 1924.
Dear folks:

My muse seems to be loafing today but I'm going to begin this and maybe the urge will develop as I go along. I wish I could really know the mind of the American people today. Also that I might be able to see both sides of the Japanese exclusion problem as it is in America. I am afraid to describe my feelings for fear I might be accused of treason. But I have mingled and lived with Japanese people of nearly every rank except the high-up royalty and I have been inconvenienced by difficulties arising from our differences in civilization and from misunderstandings due to language difficulties; from my lack of information regarding many of their ways of doing things and from a similar lack. And I admit there are times when a fellow is tempted to think himself and his kind above them and their kind. But when I think of my own weakest points and also when one compares oneself with a Japanese who has had about the same education and fairly good opportunities well the comparison is not always nor generally in my favor. In fact, looking at these people as individuals and as a nation in the light of common sense and in the light of what I believe would be the spirit of Jesus I fail to see adequate proof of the "Superiority of the White Race."

It remains to be seen what effect the recent action of our legislature at Washington will have upon our work here but it does not take a very active imagination to imagine that confidence in us will be lessened. I take hope, though, from the fact that we do not see in our friends any disposition to turn away from us. I have a great deal of faith in the power of individual personalities so if we can keep ours tempered with magnanimity, kindness and a willingness to frankly co-operate we'll get through with at least a minimum of opposition and distrust. I guess that's enough on that subject. I do not presume that everyone will agree with me but I hope you'll think it over and through carefully. For one whose eyes are open there is always something new to be seen or experienced, even in a country as small as this. A couple of weeks ago I took a trip with a fellow missionary. Starting from his home city we went by train on the main line for an hour. Then we boarded a "toy train" which wound around among hills through tunnels and along rivers. Four hours of beautiful changing scenery. At the end of that line we left the train, checked our baggage which went by cable and footed it over the mountain which has not yet been tunneled for the railway. A mile and a half up a winding path and then two miles down a very steep descent to another "toy train" which carried us to the Pacific. That climb was not so bad but when I reached the bottom on the other side my legs were so sore I could hardly walk. We spent a night in a hotel in the port town and took the coast steamer in the morning which went bobbing up along a gorgeous coast of cliffs, rocky mountains and bays. After seven hours and a half of that we arrived having escaped seasickness—thank you. We spent Saturday night and Sunday in an industrious fishing town. Sunday afternoon we took a ride in a big row boat (look up "sloop" in your Webster's dictionary and you'll see a picture of a boat something like ours). I helped row a little bit with that awkward looking oar. Coming back a little fishing tug hailed us and waited till we rowed to it, tied us on and we went cutting over the waves a-flying. We boarded the coast steamer that night at ten-thirty and lay down on the floor in "Second Class" to sleep. At night the boats push out farther into the deep away from shore and being in the rear of the boat it was like being on the end of a long teeter board. It was as if every time my end of the board came down my feet could not touch the ground. Yes, if you do not object to hearing it, I made my contributions to the Pacific and to Yule inhabitants thereof and was duly grateful when the day dawned and more grateful when I was allowed to dip into the bowl of soup and the bowl of rice being devoured by the deck hands. The rest of the trip got nothing out of me. The return climb over the mountain was not as bad as previously. We took the long steep climb very slowly and the down grade was not so steep as the up so I came through in fine shape.

Some little trip that. I mailed a card to my wife Saturday night and it came Wednesday morning. I having gotten home the afternoon before. I suppose that no mail goes over the mountain pass so it had to go by boat farther down the coast. Anyway that will give you some idea of a few of the isolated spots in this little land. But in that spot they get their mail every day, children go to school, the movies have their runs and not all the residents were born in that out-of-the-way spot. Yes, Japan is an interesting country full of interesting scenery and interesting folks. Come on over and see with your own eyes. But please, before you start, decide to visit Japan as you would wish anyone to visit America and I'll guarantee to you a most interesting trip.

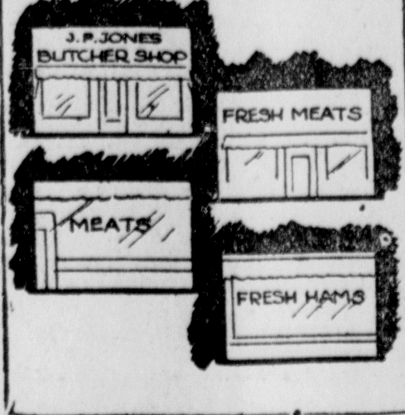

Very cordially yours,
ALFRED ANKENY.

ONE OF THESE STORES IS LOSING MONEY

A recent survey has shown that one out of four retail meat stores is losing money.

By LAWRENCE A. ADAMS
Assistant Marketing Specialist, U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Competition in the retail field is keen. Every one is not fitted to run such a business successfully. More is required than enough capital to secure fixtures and a stock of goods. Experience is necessary, as is a pleasing personality and a knowledge of purchasing and pricing. Adequate records and ability to analyze them is required as an insurance against incurring a constant loss. Many retailers now in business would be better off if they were to sell their enterprise and go to work for somebody else as clerks. This fact was brought out very forcibly in a survey of the retail meat trade. One out of four merchants was failing to earn the same wages which he would get if he was working for some one else.

LARGEST CLASS IN SCHOOL HISTORY IS GRADUATED FROM WILBERFORCE

The largest class in the history of Wilberforce University was graduated at the sixty-first annual commencement exercises held in the auditorium of Galloway Hall at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

The exercises were preceded by a procession of students in caps and gowns, members of the faculty and the board of trustees from the new Shorter Hall to Galloway Hall, where Bishop Gregg, retiring president of the university, presided at the ceremonies. Dr. James E. Gregg of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., delivered the commencement oration.

There were 280 graduates, including forty-six who received student degrees, and a number of diplomas and certificates, besides honorary degrees given. Honor degrees of LL. D. were given by the university to Bishop Gregg, retiring president; to Dr. James E. Gregg, president of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., the commencement orator and to J. H. At the same time Payne Theological Seminary conferred an honorary doctor of divinity degree on the first woman to ever receive an honorary degree from Wilberforce. She is the Rev. Mary G. Evans, evangelist and pastor of St. Johns A. M. E. Church, Indianapolis, a graduate of Wilberforce with the class of 1911 and later a graduate of Union Theological Seminary and Columbia.

Professor Bruce Green was elected vice president and dean of the university Wednesday by the board of trustees, to succeed Gilbert H. Jones, who has been named president to succeed Bishop J. A. Gregg. J. D. M. Russell, Wilberforce, secretary and the Rev. G. S. David, Lexington, Ky., treasurer, were re-elected. All teachers of the university were also re-appointed for next year at salary increases.

NEW SHORTER HALL, WILBERFORCE LARGEST COLLEGE BUILDING OWNED BY NEGRO RACE

Bishop J. H. Jones, presiding bishop of the third episcopal district of the A. M. E. Church and president of the trustee board of Wilberforce University, assisted by the twenty-one legal trustees and the auxiliary members of the board, has just closed one of the most successful board meetings in the history of the institution.

The meeting this year was made significant by the completion of the new Shorter Hall, the largest college building owned by the race in the world, which stands as a tribute to the energy of Bishop Jones. It was erected at a cost of $400,000, of which amount Bishop Jones raised $108,000 during 1923 from his episcopal district alone, the largest sum realized from any one district.

The building has an auditorium with a seating capacity of 3,000, has 500 rooms, is four stories high, contains six miles of heating pipes and four acres of floor space. The structure is fireproof, with the exception of the doors, and with the fixtures and furnishings the cost is estimated at about $500,000. The building replaces the old Shorter Hall, destroyed by fire two years ago.

As an appreciation of his efforts, Bishop Jones was returned to the all health.

In his absence Bishop J. S. Flipper, Georgia, sixth district, secretary of the council, was in charge of the meeting. The following Bishops were present: Bishop W. H. Heard, presiding Bishop, first Episcopal district, J. Albert Johnson, D. D. presiding bishop of the second district; W. W. Beckett D. D. presiding Bishop of Mississippi; I. N. Ross, D. D. presiding bishop, twelfth district, Arkansas; J. H. Jones, D. D. presiding bishop, third district, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania; John Hurst, D. D. presiding bishop, eleventh district, Florida; W. D. Johnson, D. D. tenth district, Texas; A. J. Carey, D. D., fifth district, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and Washington; W. A. Fountain, ninth district, Alabama; W. Sampson Brooks, D. D., West Africa; W. T. Vernon, D. D., fifteenth district, Michigan and Ontario conferences; J. S. Flipper, D. D., sixth district, Georgia, secretary; A. L. Gaines, D. D., Louisiana and South America; R. C. Ransom, D. D., fourteenth district, Kentucky and Tennessee and J. A. Gregg, D. D., South Africa.

Bishop W. D. Cahpelle was also absent. Bishop B. F. Lee of Wilberforce, who gave the church thirty years of unbroken episcopal service, addressed the trustee board Wednesday. These bishops are the spiritual leaders of 800,000 members of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and indirectly, the leaders of 10,000,000 members of their race. At the council the bishops considered many the last general conference at Louisville, Ky.

BUSINESS—UP OR DOWN

Roger W. Babson Takes Soundings On Our Present Position.

Babson Park, Mass., June 18.—Does the recent slowing up of activity mean that business is on the toboggan or will the present lull give way to another boom? The question is uppermost in the minds of nine out of ten business men and not a few who are not in business for themselves. It was put today to Roger W. Babson, statistician and business authority, who has the figures of present activity for every important industry in the country and for practically every trading center.

"Whether we are having a business depression or not," replied Mr. Babson, "depends a great deal upon your point of view and upon what you mean by depression. The Johnstown flood probably would not have impressed Noah but it was plenty serious enough for those who were involved in it. Technically business is below the normal zone. In some lines the depression is severe, in others but a slight slackening in trade is being felt. Perhaps the easiest way to get the present position of general business is to compare it with the depressions of the past that we have had an opportunity to view in retrospect. We look back, for instance, on 1907 as a panic year,—we still carry some of the scars inflicted by the black months of 1920 and 1921. Will we look back on 1924 as a year of serious depression or merely as a year when things were a bit slow?"

During the year 1907 general business activity fell from a point 16 per cent above normal to 24 per cent below normal, a most precipitous decline, making a total loss of 40 points in twelve months. So far in 1924 general activity as reflected on the Babsonchart has declined from about 4 per cent above normal in January to its present position 11 per cent below normal. Commodity prices lost about 21 points in the panic of 1907 and commodity prices today are higher than they were at the first of the year. The index of stock prices in 1907 fell from 105 in January to a low of 55 in December,—one of the sharpest declines in recent stock market history. There is relatively little change between stock prices today and those of January first. Money was scarce in 1907 and real panic conditions prevailed. We have nothing similar to this situation today nor is there prospect of such a development at the present time.

"The difficult years of 1920 and 1921 which stood the brunt of post-war readjustment are fresher in our minds. In January 1920 general activity was 21 per cent above normal. By the spring of 1921 it was running at 25 per cent below normal, a loss of 46 points in about 15 months. Our present situation in which we have suffered a loss of approximately 15 points during the first half of this year does not look so serious by comparison. There was no money panic in 1920 and 1921 due largely to the operation of the Federal Reserve system but commodity prices suffered the most drastic decline in history, dropping from the high point of 297 to a low point of 130 in less than twelve months. Stocks dropped from 93 to 66 and heavy inventory losses forced many reputable concerns into the hands of the banks, and too many of them eventually into the hands of the receiver.

"The present more or less uncertain business weather then can hardly be classed with some of the storms we have experienced during the past few years. The most recent figures on industrial activities show that the forty-two leading industries now average about 10 per cent less busy than they were a year ago. In spite of this fact we find that fourteen of these forty-two classifications are producing as much or more than they were at this same period in 1923. Baker products are running about 5 per cent ahead of last year, the beverage business is leading by practically that same margin. Brick manufacturing is about 10 per cent ahead of a year ago cement shows just a 5 per cent increase. Women's clothing, jewelry and printing and publishing are running about the same as last year. Meat packing is 2 per cent ahead of last year's figures while petroleum products show an 8 per cent gain, and piano manufacturing is running 10 per cent ahead of last year.

"The slowing up of business was surely not developed panic dimensions. As a matter of fact, its down swing which has developed was clearly indicated by fundamental conditions a year ago. It is a natural normal completion of the period of readjustment which was interrupted by a sudden spurt in business in late 1922 and early 1923. For five years between 1915 and 1920 business ran continuously above normal and developed a great period of inflation. During 1920 and 1921 and early 1922 we suffered a rather drastic readjustment. It did not entirely offset the inflation of the previous era, however, and the premature boom of early 1923 could not last under such conditions. Apparently we are now going to complete the readjustment in an orderly fashion and prepare for another real period of prosperity.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."

LODGE TO OBSERVE
ST. JON'S DAY AT CHURCH SUNDAY

In pursuance of its yearly custom, Kenia Lodge No. 49, F. & A. M. will celebrate St. John's Day next Sunday, June 22, having accepted the invitation of the W. H. Tilford to visit the First Presbyterian Church, of which he is the pastor, on that occasion.

The Rev. Mr. Tilford has prepared a sermon which will be of especial interest to all Masons. There will also be special music.

Masons will meet at the Lodge rooms to open Lodge at 9:45 o'clock and march to the church at 10:15. All members are requested to be present.

SUBMITS REPORT
FOR GARDEN CLUB

Dr. Austin M. Patterson, treasurer of the Kenia Garden Club, has submitted his report for 1924 up to June 14, showing the receipts and expenditures of the society.

The receipts included a balance from 1923 of $39.65; 284 memberships at 25 cents, totaling $71; plants sold for $81.50 and seeds sold for $60.32, making a total of $252.47.

The expenditures of the club were as follows: plants bought, $51.00; seeds bought, $47.60; lecturer's fee $10.00; labor, $61.70; advertising $10.48; miscellaneous $15.29; and balance in bank, $56.40, totaling $252.47. Shrubby sold at cost, not included in the above accounting, totaled $375.39.

One hundred and forty-seven memberships were gained by the club in 1923.

MANN BUILDING FUND DOUBLED

The committee in charge of the drive to raise funds for the Horace Mann Memorial Library Antioch College, Yellow Springs, has reported that the amount asked for has been doubled.

The three-day drive was started May 26 and at the end of that time $3,000 had been raised. Since that time contribution have been made swelling the total to an even $4,000.

A recently found friend of the college, living in New York, has agreed to match any amount raised by the committee with an equal amount, the maximum being $2,500.

The margin is considered sufficient to furnish the interior of the building.

WASHINGTON WILL VOTE ON NEW TIME

There will be no change of time in Washington, C. H. before August 12, and not then if a negative vote is recorded at the election when the question of ratifying or repudiating an ordinance calling for eastern standard time will be voted upon.

The only way in which the time change could possibly be brought about inside of that period is by action of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has not yet passed on the question of moving the time zone westward from its present line.

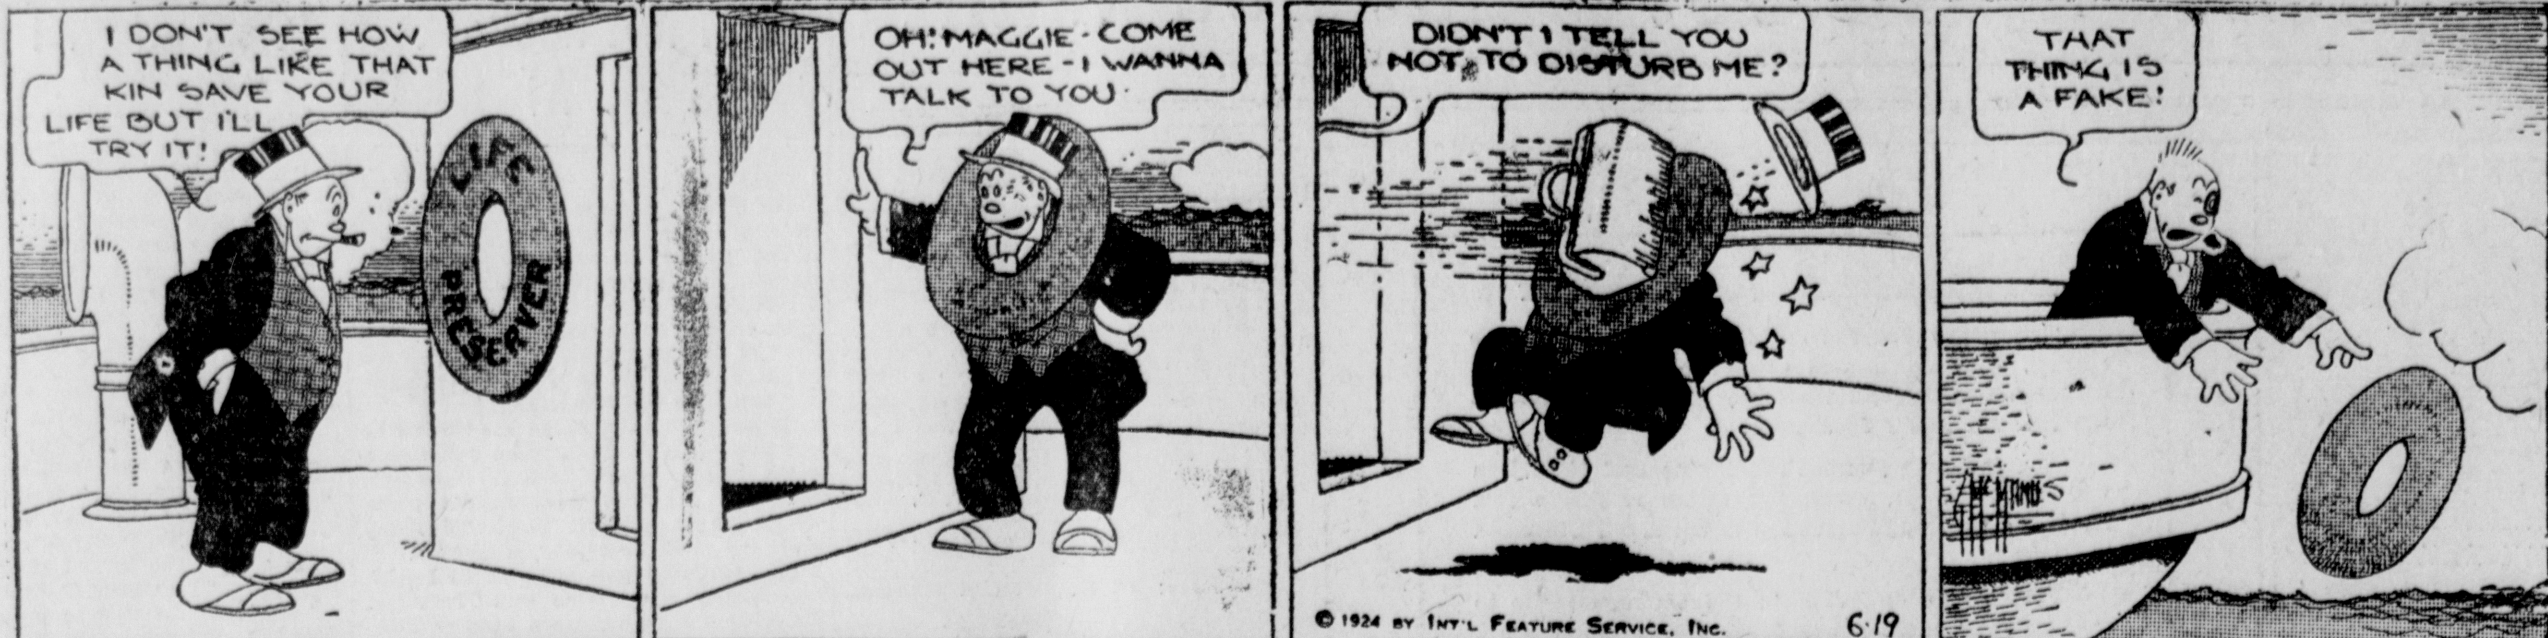

SHRINERS HOLD

Dinner was served at noon on the lawn of the residence. Golf, quail pitching, baseball and other sports were enjoyed during the afternoon.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Health
Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

From a physiological standpoint, it is perhaps necessary to mention the deleterious effects of improper carriage upon the functioning of the various organs of the body.

They are normally prepared to do their very best work only when in their natural positions, and the crowding and straining which they endure in a propped condition interfere most seriously with their duties, as well as with the circulation of the blood through them. And to a very large extent the multifarious weaknesses and disorders peculiar to the female sex are due directly to the weakness and prolepsis which follow improper carriage, when the corset is not also a contributing cause.

In thousands of cases a vigorous and erect carriage would enable women to avoid these difficulties, provided also that they did not injure themselves with corsets.

Women who have a sense of "style," which really means grace of bearing rather than the fashion in garments, appreciate the beauty of an erect carriage, and in their endeavors to realize their ideal they foolishly depend upon the corset, to hold them erect. They succeed in keeping themselves erect, and yet they do not succeed in their desire, for their attitude is a stiff one; it is without life, without grace, without that suggestion of physical poise and vigor which gives an irresistible charm to the woman who is truly vital and magnetic.

The corset does not and cannot take the place of good strong muscles and the sense of energy throughout the body which makes for grace and poise.

Just as a condition of weakness and ill health results in a poor carriage, so does a negligent and careless attitude react upon the health to make it worse. And just as a condition of physical vigor expresses itself in an erect attitude, so does the latter tend to encourage and develop vigor, because of the advantage under which all the functions and activities of the body proceed. Therefore, every woman should make a special study of the requirements of a good carriage and should keep to the erect form in sitting, standing and walking.

Burke Opens Campaign.

Orrville, O., June 19.—State Senator J. F. Burke, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, opened here an eight weeks' campaign, designed to take him into every section of Ohio before the primaries to be held Aug. 12. Burke arrived here accompanied by a caravan of autos. In his speech Burke attacked dishonesty in road contracts and injustice in apportioning taxes.

LOVE-OR FAME?

VIOLET DARE

Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit PERSIS GRANT, and gets a chance to act in a motion picture as double for a famous star. She meets LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicity man, a producer whom Persis knows, named HOPSON, invites the girls to go to a theatre and dance club with him and some friends.

IX—THE GREAT WHITE WAY

"AND now let's go somewhere and dance," suggested Mr. Hopson when we left the theater. "I told Fay that we'd meet her at the Manhattan Roof. That's Fay Granville," he added to me, and my heart leaped. Fay Granville—I'd read about her in the newspapers.

It was wonderful on the Roof, with its marvelous dance music and all the people. I didn't like dancing with Mr. Hopson, but he seemed to enjoy it. During the vaudeville show that began soon after we arrived he told me that I danced beautifully. When the show was over and the music began again, I did wish that I needn't dance with him or Mr. Melville—but I knew I'd have to. And then someone spoke to me and I glanced up and saw Lawrence French standing beside our table.

"Will you dance with me?" he asked, after he had been introduced to the others. I was so glad to accept!

When we were well out on the floor he said: "What are you doing here with Melville and that partner of his?"

"Just having a good time," I answered; it seemed to me his voice was awfully grouchy.

"Sure they aren't offering to put you into pictures?" he asked.

"Well, they're going to get me a place with a friend of theirs," and I told him about Fay Granville and how Mr. Hopson had said that I might get a part in her company.

"Don't you touch it!" he told me, looking terribly severe. "They're a gang of crooks, that bunch, and evidently they're pretending to go to some little town, pretend to make some scenes for a picture and look around for a studio and soak the townspeople for every cent they've got. Of course you'd be an asset—you're so young and sweet and guileless looking that you'd convince anybody that the company was honest. I've seen that trick worked before. Why that man Melville is so crooked he can't draw a straight breath. No, sir—stay out of that, little girl."

The music stopped just then, and as the people all turned toward the orchestra and applauded for an ensemble, I saw Fay Granville come in. She looked simply gorgeous, with her cloth-of-gold cloak trailing around her and a wonderful gold vanity case, set with diamonds, dangling from her wrist.

"She doesn't look as if she'd be mixed up in anything that wasn't honest," I said as we began to dance again.

Mr. French looked down at me then with the funniest expression in his eyes; I didn't know just what it meant, but my heart began to thump like a big hammer.

"She's so bad that I can't talk to you about her," he said after a minute or two. "Promise me that you won't have anything to do with her."

And I did; somehow I had to. But I wondered what I'd tell Mr. Hopson.

"Don't have anything to do with him!"
